Jonah's Newest Message

“MIND OF GOD”

What is the mind of God? How can humans, who use very little of their mind power, comprehend God or become at one with God, the Mind of God? Jonah goes into detail on what is the Mind of God. The mind is not to be confused with the brain or brain power. The Mind of God takes you on a journey to more deeply understand your connection to God and God's connection to you.

Jonah Question and Answer

When I think of a “teacher” or “those who come to assist,” it has a feeling of separation on it – for example “a teacher” is separate from “an individual the teacher is assisting.” How can I shift my perception of a “master” or “teacher” to be more in line with the concept that we are all one? Or how can an individual feel at one with those of a lower vibration and vice versa? Is it to remove judgment? Sharon Soldi, Ramona, California

Beloved, this comes from a belief system. If one wanted to learn to play a musical instrument, would one not learn from a teacher? If one wanted to learn carpentry, would one not learn from a teacher? Indeed, if one were to learn about spirituality, life, or creating joy, would ye not seek a teacher? A teacher meaning one who has mastered what they are teaching. Not one who pretends to have mastered, or one who seeks to master over one. Some have experienced one who has attempted to master over them, or did not know what they were teaching because they had not mastered it. Indeed all are equal; this does not mean all have the same knowledge and wisdom. Chose teachers who will teach knowledge with wisdom, for this will free the mind to honor the soul. When one honors the soul, they do not see one’s lower vibration, but as one who needs to learn through joy. Sometimes one desires to learn but carries many belief systems that get in the way, perhaps they need a strong and direct teacher to assist them to move through their beliefs into their knowing...Jonah

Jonah, Will you please explain the learning/healing process of an unborn child's soul as the pregnant mother moves along in her pregnancy? Does the child still work with his/her guides, setting things in motion for the physical life? Do they tend to stay around the mother and/or parents in proximity? Do they stay attached to an age or gender even though they're in the nonphysical? Are they very aware of the present issues within the parents and interact with the parent or parents in accordance to those issues? Thank you! Tami Urbanek, Monument, Colorado

Beloved, the soul can experience all of this ye ask. A soul is not deaf or mute, but can and does carry on communication with the mother, and other family members either consciously or subconsciously. Indeed, the soul continues to work with their guides, or the soul to become the child may indeed be a guide. Does a soul attach to an age or gender, are they aware of present issues, yes they can be. A soul will chose a gender that will create the greatest learning for the parents and the soul coming forth. A soul can also be attached to their prior mental and emotional bodies from a past life as well. Some can be attached to their mental and emotional bodies from a future life. Not all souls have mastered what they came to learn, therefore, some are still living under the karmic wheel. Some souls are masters returning to the physical to bring a message. Some souls come to assist the physical family; some souls come to assist the spiritual family. Souls are aware of the issues in the family, they either come to shatter the issues for a family healing, or they come to learn from the family issues because they have not yet learned it, mastered it. A soul does not come to the earth as a vacation destination, but rather to learn and teach, to raise their vibration, to become at one within themselves, to learn the true meaning of love...Jonah

Jonah, do we have only one core belief in each life time? Or can it be more than one so that we can heal one and another one appears afterwards? Or does it mean that we had not healed our core belief in totality and some residue remained? Also, could the core belief be "our heritage" from previous life times? With love, Aggeliki Plouma, Athens, Greece

Core beliefs, the healing, yes. In the greater truth as we have taught in, "A Belief Worth Dying For," there is but one core belief of which many sub core beliefs are attached unto. The primary core belief is caused by one separating them self from that which is. Each human who has not mastered life has a core belief, they have a pattern in life they continue to follow, even though that pattern causes much pain. When one heals their core belief many beliefs cease to be. Does this mean one is finished? Indeed not, it means now they can begin to learn the true essence of life, they can now begin to learn and teach the essence of true love. When one heals their core belief they remember who they are and where they came from, they know who and what they are. If one seeks to go to ones who are teaching what we taught at the Intensive -“A Belief Worth Dying For?”- seek one who has mastered healing their core belief, for it is from these ye can be assisted...Jonah

Jonah, what is the difference between trying to "survive" and preparing to weather a storm? Joseph Armeanio, Divide, Colorado

Beloved, when one prepares to weather a storm they do not need to be in a state of consciousness called survival. Ones enter into a state of spiritual, mental, or emotional survival because they chose not to prepare. One can receive much information on preparing; one can receive much teaching on how to prepare. Indeed, one can take all of this information and store it in their library of the mind or book shelf, and leave it there, never to be used or applied. Then when events occur they rush to a survival mode of life. Often these individuals ask the question why can't I heal? Why is it so difficult to enjoy life? Why do I have the same issues decade after decade? When one learns something, use it and it becomes a part of ye, and shall not depart from ye...Jonah

Questions for future Newsletters

Dear Jonah,
last years I've been reading a lot about the Nazi Period and the Holocaust and I want to ask you what really happened those years. 6.000.000 Jewish people were killed in a very painful way. Is it possible that apart from the individuals a whole nation can choose to learn through so much pain? It is also said that the Holocaust wouldn't have existed without the help from the occupied by the Nazis countries. What is the origin of this hatred against the Jews and of persecution against them through the years?
Thank you very much,
Rozina Berkner, Athens, Greece

Jonah, what is critical for teachers working with immigrants children or charismatic children whose talents are not “recognized” by their parents? With love, Aggeliki Plouma, Athens, Greece.

Jonah what can one do to find inner balance, to be alive in all life, to trust self and to find the essence in the aspects of life? Love and respect Rita Litou, Athens Greece

What is the difference between allergies and disease? In the springtime when the flowers bloom there is also an onslaught of sneezing and itchy eyes and what we call "allergies" and I'm wondering if that is a sign of resistance of expansion or something else? Connie Luciano

Dear Jonah,

Is this first wave of the pandemic targeting children specifically, both the physical virus and the energy and propaganda behind it? Is this in part designed to inhibit the Children of the 21st Century from succeeding with their purpose of cultural change and awakening? Is it also to keep the parents in a great state of fear where they will accept any "cure" or laws in the illusion of keeping their children safe? How can those of us who work with the children and parents assist them in shifting out of the fear and protecting their minds from the mental component of the virus as well as the physical? Thank you so much for all your assistance- Jackie Lloyd, Ramona, California

Jonah, there is being planned a mass swine flu vaccination program for the schools of the US. What effect will this vaccination have on the health and consciousness of the individual? Matt Spaeth, Lyons, Colorado

Jonah, how could the Iranian people bring forth the change they wish to see without the violence and bloodshed? Matt Spaeth, Lyons, Colorado

Jonah, what is the difference between the soul and oversoul. Could more than one person have the same oversoul? Is the oversoul the same as what I call the higher self? Thank you, Mary DeVore, Lakewood, Colorado
